FURNITURE DOORS
from Finland

During its 30-year history, Kensa has experienced many triumphs and challenges, which have shaped the family business into what it is today. The idea behind Kensa's operations has always been high quality, both in products and service. Environmental values, a long product lifecycle and corporate social responsibility are of importance to us too.

There are over 30 different models to choose from and the options for colors are almost limitless.

Our own production enables knowledgeable service as well as customer specific customization of products. Kensa's Premium range and Quartet microlaminate range has the M1 certificate. M1 is an emission classification of building materials and stands for low emissions of a product and better indoor air quality.

Our network of resellers covers all of Finland and resellers can be found also in Sweden, Norway and the Baltic countries.
